Uncle Sam's Postal Department shows up with a deficit of $3,923,727, charged up to abuses of second class privilege. Nothing second class about the deficit.

Among the allegations in Mr. Nation's bill for divorce is that Carrie confiscated his feather bed, drew $900 out of the bank and then sloped. And then she wrote to him and called him a "hell-hound."

The latest performance of Carrie Nation was at Marietta, Ohio, where she lectured under the auspices of a saloon keeper and a pugilist. She may eventually evolute into the bosses of a beer garden.

The Northwest territory in Canada is a pretty good grain growing country. The average yield of wheat this year was from 28 to 30 bushels. The average in this country isn't much more than 12 bushels. The average yield of oats and barley are also much above the United States.

People who want to do Europe had better take advantage of cheap rates across the sea, for the New York Tribune informs us that, with the drain on the coal mines, coal will become an item in running big steamers before this century is out, and people will have to pay like whiz.

A Washington dispatch says Mr. Roosevelt is not wasting any talk in his message over measures that would not be likely to pass, but having felt the pulse of the statesmen will confine his recommendations to those which will. That is sensible. But how has he managed to use up 20,000 words in recommending measures that he feels sure will pass?

There are now in this country 2,158 daily papers and 20,879 publications of different kinds, but when B. Franklin was thinking of starting a paper in 1728 his friends advised him to go slow because there were already three papers in the country and he was running a risk of overdoing the business.

A short while ago a Paris electrician accomplished the feat of sending half a dozen different messages simultaneously over a single wire and claimed that he could send a dozen, but a Professor in the State University of Colorado has discounted him by inventing a contrivance by which he has sent 18 messages at the same time and received the replies at the same time over the same wire.

A Paris jewelry man played a trick on Mrs. Harry S. Black, of New York, who last Summer bought and brought with her to this country a $35,000 pearl necklace. She tried to dodge paying the duty on it. This jeweler got mad when he learned that she bought the necklace from a rival in trade, told the Secret Service agent in Paris, and the result was she had to fork over $18,669 duty. The jewelry man got his revenge.

SMITH NOT GUILTY.

Charge of Embezzlement Against Him Not Sustained in the Superior Court.

WILL SUE FOR DAMAGES.

John Wallace, Negro Murderer, Received Second Degree Verdict and Sentenced for 30 Years—Other Cases—Today for Jail Defendants.

Two important cases were terminated in the Superior Court Thursday and yesterday while a number of minor matters were likewise cleared from the docket during odd moments intervening.

The jury Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock brought in a verdict of guilty of murder in the second degree as to John Wallace, the defendant having been sentenced to the State penitentiary for a period of thirty years, the maximum penalty in such cases, and yesterday evening at 6 o'clock by instruction of Judge Allen the jury in the case of N. L. Smith, charged with embezzlement, returned a verdict of not guilty and the prosecuting witness, Ludden & Bates' Southern Music House, was taxed with the cost of the action.

The Smith case was begun Thanksgiving afternoon upon the convening of court at 3:45 o'clock. The State was represented by Solicitor Duffy, L. V. Grady, Marsden Bellamy and Herbert McClammy, Esqs., while Messrs. Bellamy & Peschau and Hon. E. K. Bryan appeared for the defendant. The case was very hard fought from the beginning and the entire afternoon on Thursday was consumed in selecting a jury, which was at last empanelled as follows: W. M. Wise, S. H. Terry, J. T. Batson, O. A. Wiggins, T. J. Presson, W. B. Bowden, Bertram Quelch, T. S. Tolar, G. W. Parker, H. E. Boulis, Wm. Konig and M. F. Costin.

After hearing evidence all day and while the defendant, N. L. Smith, was undergoing cross examination yesterday evening at 6 o'clock, Judge Allen brought the case to an abrupt ending by saying substantially that the further the case progressed the more he was convinced that the controversy was of a civil rather than of a criminal nature; that even if it were brought civilly, the differences between the parties were of such wide and varied scope that he would at once place the taking of testimony in the hands of a referee to save time and great expense. He asked counsel for the prosecution if they desired to say anything regarding the matter and in absence of a reply the clerk was instructed to enter a verdict of not guilty. Judge E. K. Bryan, of counsel for defence, then asked for a granting of the motion previously made to make the Ludden & Bates Southern Music House the prosecuting witness so as it could be charged up with the cost. Judge Allen stated that he was inclined to do this, but said he would hear from counsel on the other side. Messrs. McClammy, Grady and Bellamy each spoke, but at the conclusion the motion was granted except that part of it which charged maliciousness and frivolity. On those questions Judge Allen stated he would hear argument later. The court found as a fact, however, that there was not reasonable grounds for the prosecution nor did the interest of the public demand it.

Only three witnesses went on the stand for the prosecution yesterday. Upon the convening of court at 9:30 A. M., Mr. C. C. Buckingham, secretary and treasurer of the Ludden & Bates Company, went on the stand. Mr. W. W. Slaton, now manager of the Wilmington branch of the company, was next witness and both testified as to the business dealings with the defendant. Mr. J. V. Grainger testified as to the individual and agency account of Mr. Smith with the Murchison National Bank, of which he is cashier. All the testimony was a mass of figures that indicate nothing the general public unless taken up seriatim.

When the prosecution rested, Mr. Jaspersen Smith, brother of Mr. N. L. Smith and secretary and treasurer of the old concern, was introduced for the defence. He testified as to the contract with the defendant and numerous letters and statements were introduced in connection with his testimony, there having been a sharp legal contest over each point.

Mr. A. J. Howell, Jr., bookkeeper for the house while Mr. Smith was its agent, was the next witness. His testimony was relative to the contract, sales, commissions, etc.

Mr. J. A. Bates, of New York, formerly general manager of the Ludden & Bates company, testified as to the customs of the concern in dealing with agents, all of which was favorable to the defendant.

Messrs. Henry W. Miller and W. S. Uzzell, composing the music firm of Miller & Uzzell, Goldsboro and Raleigh, were each introduced to prove the dealings of the company with its agents, of which they were one. They also testified as to unpaid commissions due them by the old company before it was reorganized as now.

Mr. Smith went on the stand in his own behalf and had finished his direct testimony. It was while undergoing a tedious cross-examination that Judge Allen put an end to the trial, as described above.

As soon as the trial had been concluded, Mr. Smith's counsel had a summons issued by the Clerk of the Superior Court calling the Ludden & Bates Southern Music House to answer in the Superior Court to a suit for $100,000 damages for false arrest and imprisonment, upon the occasion of his being brought to Wilmington from Georgetown, S. C., and confined in the county jail here some time ago, the particulars of which are well known to readers of the city papers. An attempt was made last night to get service upon Mr. Buckingham, secretary and treasurer of the company, but he had left on the S. A. L. train in the afternoon, returning to his home North. The paper was served upon Mr. Slaton, the Wilmington manager, by Sheriff Stedman.

Other Proceedings of the Court.

When court met at 9:30 o'clock Thursday morning, the jury in the Wallace case came into court and received additional instructions by request. A number of the jurors wished to know if a verdict of murder in the first degree with a recommendation to mercy would save the prisoner from hanging. They were told that there was no alternative, whereupon they again retired and very soon brought in a verdict of second degree, and Wallace was sentenced to thirty years.

Henry Myers, colored, who was tried earlier in the term for shooting his paramour in the head on Red Cross street, was sent to the county roads for twelve months for the assault, to which he plead guilty, and three months for carrying concealed weapons, the trial having been by jury.

Alphonzo Robeson, colored, for assaulting another negro with a deadly weapon, was given forty days on the roads.

Willis Macks, the Charleston negro, who was also tried earlier in the term and found guilty of assaulting a colored woman with a pistol, was given sixty days on the roads for that offence; on another indictment for carrying concealed weapons, sixty days, and on still another for perjury in the foregoing cases, Judge Allen sentenced him to twelve months on the roads.

Wm. Brown, colored, plead guilty to breaking into the store of E. Warren & Son and was given 12 months on the roads. Judgment was suspended in three other cases submitted to by him for larceny and receiving; being found in a store in the night time and carrying concealed weapons.

In a case against S. M. Jones for cutting wood on another's land a nol pros was taken with leave.

Judge Allen stated yesterday evening that to-day he wanted to confine the court to jail cases, a number of prisoners confined having petitioned him to that effect. It is not likely, however, that the burglary cases of Tiner and McLauchlin will be reached this term and they will go over to the January term.

JUST A LITTLE BASEBALL.

Ed. Ashenback, the Hero of the Diamond, is Here Prospecting.

Mr. E. M. Ashenback, who is favorably remembered here as manager of the Newport News baseball team in the Two-State League last season, arrived in the city yesterday from Charlotte. Mr. Ashenback is making a visit to the towns in the proposed Tri-State League next year and came to Wilmington to look over the field in this regard.

He spent the day in conferring with those likely to be interested in a team next year and expressed himself last night as being pleased with the prospect and says that the "good old town of Wilmington" will be in line at the proper time. He, himself, next season will manage a team for Charlotte.

Ash will leave this morning for Winston-Salem to view the "promised land" there.

Capt. Green on His Rounds.

Fred. Quicker, a ten year old colored boy, was lodged in the station house last night by City Detective Green, charged with the larceny of a watch from Mrs. Jos. H. Hinton, who resides with her mother, at Mrs. Bowden's, corner Second and Chesnut streets. The young negro proved a slick thief and it was not until Capt. Green had worked a clever little detective trick on the boy that he was identified as the thief and the watch recovered. The boy had hid it away in the pantry, he having been employed about the house. It was broken all to pieces when recovered, but the find was a lucky one, nevertheless. Capt Green also recovered last week a bank book and roll of bills that had been lost by a gentleman in the city.

A New Head Nurse.

By authority vested in him by the Board of Managers of the James Walker Memorial Hospital, Dr. Thos. R. Little, the superintendent, has engaged as head nurse, Miss L. M. Hellen, of McKeesport, Pa., who has had wide experience and possesses a marked talent for the work. She will arrive in Wilmington early next week, and in addition to her duties at the hospital she will conduct a school for nurses, which promises to be liberally patronized.

New Steamer Highlander.

The new river steamboat Highlander, recently built in this city by Mr. T. D. Love, general manager of the Merchants' and Farmers' Steamboat Co., left Thanksgiving night at 7 o'clock on her initial trip to Fayetteville, Capt. Jeff Bradshaw in command. The Highlander is a model of neatness and convenience. She is built to carry freight and passengers and is a valuable acquisition to the Wilmington-Fayetteville line of stern wheelers.

THE DAY OF THANKS.

Very Generally Celebrated in Wilmington by Closing of Business Houses.

OBSERVANCE AT SOUTHPORT.

Laying of Corner Stone of Odd Fellows' New Building Was an Occasion of Much Pleasure—Oration by Dr. Mendelsohn—Other Notes.

Thanksgiving was perhaps more generally observed in Wilmington this year than in many years previous. Practically all business was suspended and especially was this noticeable in the wholesale district on the wharf, where the observance is not generally so marked. In all the city churches services were held morning and evening and larger congregations than usual were reported.

At Southport the celebration partook of a more elaborate nature, the occasion being the laying of the corner stone to a handsome new building which Atlantic Lodge No. 43, I. O. O. F., of that city, are now completing. Many Wilmington Odd Fellows were present by invitation and many private individuals went down on a special trip of the steamer Wilmington to be present upon the occasion.

The new building is centrally located, two-stories in height and covered with tin roof. The first floor is designed for a store room with lodge room above. The ceremonies attendant upon the event were according to the programme previously published and very enjoyable. Past Grand Master Marcus W. Jacobi, of Cape Fear lodge, this city, presided, with the assistance of Deputy Grand Master M. C. Guthrie, Atlantic Lodge No. 3, of Southport. The procession moved from the old lodge room to the new building to the inspiring strains of music by the Southport and Fort Caswell cornet bands combined. A select choir of Southport ladies and gentlemen rendered a number of pleasing and very appropriate selections at intervals during the exercises.

The oration was by the Rev. Dr. S. Mendelsohn, of this city, and was a most pleasing and eloquent one. He spoke of the order in general and the solid principles behind it with complimentary reference to the local lodges and the evidences of prosperity which the people were then assembled to witness.

The corner-stone bears the following inscription: "Atlantic Lodge No. 43, I. O. O. F." On one end is the date "April 24th, 1894," the time when it was first laid, so soon followed by a storm that destroyed the structure. On the opposite end is the date "November 28th, 1901."

Among the articles placed in the corner-stone were copies of the three daily papers of Wilmington, Odd Fellows' Orphan Home, Odd Fellows' Herald, Southport Standard, history of Atlantic Lodge No. 43, coins, Confederate money and the customary grains, etc.

There were fully 500 people in attendance upon the exercises and all of them seemed to join heartily in the spirit of the occasion, whether members of the order or not. The ladies of Southport served delicious lunches, oysters, etc., for the benefit of the building fund and were largely patronized.

The people of Southport generally and the Odd Fellows especially, did themselves great honor in their Thanksgiving celebration of 1901.

SEWERAGE MEN ARRESTED.

Contractors' Representatives Charged With Violating an Ordinance Regulating Street Excavations.

Superintendent E. F. Kitson and Foreman G. W. Mooney, of Wm. McLean & Co., the sewerage contractors, were arrested yesterday morning by Officers Ward and Woebse, acting under orders of Chief of Police Furlong, who prefers charges against them for violating a city ordinance passed at the October meeting of the Board of Aldermen and prohibiting excavations being made on more than one side of a street at once and for not providing the system of temporary bridges for facilitating travel as required under the ordinance.

The alleged violation took place at Third and Market streets and the penalty attached is $20 for each offence. Kitson and Mooney were recognized for their personal appearance in the police court Monday morning at 9 o'clock, to which time they asked that the case be continued, Messrs. Bellamy & Peschau and Hon. E. K. Bryan being engaged in the Superior Court.

The case will be heard by Mayor pro tem. VonGlahn, as Mayor Waddell is out of the city as the guest of Capt. Willey on the revenue cutter Algonquin, which has gone to Charleston to participate in the Exposition opening exercises.

Rev. Wm. Francis Dickinson.

Rev. Dr. Dickinson, of New York city, who has accepted a call to the rectorship of St. Paul's church, this city, will conduct services and preach at St. Paul's on Sunday, both morning and evening. All are cordially invited—strangers are welcome.

— As the STAR employs no travelling agents, bills are sent direct to subscribers. These bills should receive prompt attention.

CAPT. CUMMING'S FUNERAL.

Conducted From First Presbyterian Church Yesterday Morning—Touching Incident at the Grave.

In the presence of a large concourse of friends, including many of his comrades in arms, the funeral of the late Capt. James D. Cumming was conducted by the Rev. Dr. J. M. Wells yesterday morning at 11 o'clock from the First Presbyterian church of which he was so long an officer and member.

The services consisted of appropriate scriptural reading by the pastor and the rendering of beautiful hymns by the choir fitting to the spirit of the sad occasion. The first was "Till He Comes' and later during the services "We May Not Climb to Heavenly Steeps" and "Abide With Me" were effectively sung.

At the grave in Oakdale when the service was over and the mound was covered with beautiful flowers a very touching little incident transpired when Colonel Jno. L. Cantwell, a veteran of two wars and friend of the departed soldier, went forward and amid the beautiful emblems, attached a pretty little silk flag of the Confederacy as a fitting and appropriate token of his esteem.

The following were the pall bearers: Honorary, Messrs. James H. Chadbourn, Sr., Samuel Northrop, Dr. W. W. Harriss, Col. John D. Taylor and Col. John L. Cantwell. Active, Capt. A. D. Brown, Capt. L. S. Belden, Capt. Henry Savage, Capt James I. Metts, Hon. George Rountree and Hon. M. S. Willard.

The remains reached the city Thursday evening from Brooklyn, accompanied by Mr. James D. Cumming, Jr., and a friend, Mr. Edward Griswold. Mr. Cumming, accompanied by Mr. Griswold, will leave to-day to visit his aunt, Miss Margaret Rankin, of Fayetteville.

INSURANCE COMPANY'S TAX.

Injunction Upon the Sheriff Restraining Collection of Revenue From Wilmington Underwriters' Association.

Hon. Franklin McNeill, chairman of the Corporation Commission and ex officio chairman of the State Tax Commission, spent yesterday in the city in conference with members of the Board of County Commissioners, who just now find themselves fighting an unpleasant injunction granted by Judge Allen against the Sheriff and restraining him from collecting the taxes against the Wilmington Underwriters' Insurance Company, which were recently specially ordered levied upon the real estate of the corporation and for which the insurance company claims it is not liable.

George Rountree and Eugene S. Martin, Esqs., will likely be associated with the County Attorney in fighting the injunction which will be heard by Judge Allen, Monday, Dec. 9th. The amount involved is only the tax claimed for the county on $4,900 real estate at 38 cents per hundred. The insurance company says through its counsel, Hon. E. K. Bryan, that it is not liable for the amount under the revenue act. The Carolina Insurance Company will await the result of the controversy.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

SATURDAY MORNING, NOV. 30.

FRYE BOOSTS SUBSIDIES.

Being one of the co-laborers and sponsors for the ship subsidy scheme it is quite natural that Senator Frye should boost it and as Republican statesmen are not over particular as to their statements and contentions it is not surprising that he should indulge in unfounded statements and conclusions to reconcile people to it and disarm opposition against his pet scheme. In a recent speech, addressing the Commercial Club, of Boston, he is quoted as saying:

"Nearly every industry that has been protected has prospered. One alone has been handicapped by adverse legislation at home and protection of its competitors abroad, namely, our ships engaged in the foreign trade. Who carried last year our $2 300,000,000 of foreign commerce? Of our enormous exports we carried 6 per cent."

Senator Frye is on general principles a protectionist, and hence he supports his position as a protectionist by declaring that "nearly every industry that has been protected has prospered." It doesn't follow, however, that if they had not been protected in accordance with his ideas they would not have prospered, but this is the inference he would have deducted from his declaration, namely that protection was the cause of their prospering. Literally the remark is true, because our industries have always had some sort of protection, for revenue was necessary and the duties levied on imports have given a certain amount of protection. Our industries prospered when they didn't have one-fourth the protection they have now, and they would prosper now if they didn't have as much protection as they had then. They would prosper if they didn't have any protection, for they have reached that point where they can compete successfully with foreign manufacturers in the cost of production, and can even undersell them in some lines of manufacture.

It is a fact that nearly every industry that has been protected has "prospered," and there is nothing remarkable in that, for with a home market containing seventy six millions of the most liberal buyers in the world and a practically prohibitory tariff which gives those industries a monopoly of that market it would be a surprising thing if they had not prospered. The fact is they have "prospered" so much that foreign markets have become a necessity to keep them running full time; this is the pretence for ship subsidies to give them better facilities for reaching these foreign markets and making more of them.

That is the pretence, we say, for it may be questioned whether the main movers in this subsidy game are not more interested in giving bonuses to ship builders than they are in building up the merchant marine. The two principal schemers for subsidies—Senators Frye and Hanna—are each directly or indirectly interested in the ship building business. Ship building is one of the industries of Maine, Senator Frye's State, and Senator Hanna is a partner in one of the ship building companies on Lake Erie. The former is looking after the interests of some of his favored constituents, while Senator Hanna is doing likewise, he being included among the favored constituents.

But why, if they are really anxious for a merchant marine, do they put obstacles in its way to pay bonuses to our ship builders when their yards have more work than they can do and are prospering more than they ever did before. They have no competition to fear, for they have under our navigation laws an absolute monopoly of the building of vessels for our lake and coasting trade, and for building all vessels, for that matter, for no foreign built vessel can sail under our flag without special Congressional permit. This gives our ship builders an absolute monopoly of the ship building business, so that they do not need any "protection." Why, then, when they have this and are earning splendid dividends and full of work, go into the treasury of the United States to pay them bounties to increase their profits when they are already doing so well? They are not particularly anxious to build ships in competition with foreign ship builders because they have plenty of work with plenty more in sight, and are so well paid for it that they do not care to work for smaller profits, which they would have to do if they were compelled to compete with foreign ship builders. Some of them have done this, but it was on large, high-priced steamers on which the profit was large. They are not getting money orders for ocean-going ships, because protected as they are they ask more for building them than men who want ships are willing to pay, whereas if our people were permitted to go abroad to have their ships built and were given the privilege of sailing such ships under their own flag, then our ship builders, if they desired that kind of work, would come down in their prices for building ocean-going vessels, while they might keep their prices up for lake and coasting vessels, as they would still be protected by the laws which prevent foreign built vessels from engaging in our lake or coast traffic.

As a matter of fact as the laws now stand while they prevent American capitalists from engaging in the ocan carrying business, under the American flag, the laws do not help the ship builders as far as building for ocean service goes, for they will have few orders for that kind of ships, and therefore the restrictions against buying foreign ships or having ships built in foreign ship yards might as well be removed and it would be a good thing for the ship building industry of this country if they were.

If Messrs. Frye and Hanna and those who are co-operating with them were as anxious for an American merchant marine as they are to pull millions out of the Treasury for the benefit of the ship builders and men who will form trusts to control the ships that might be built with subsidies, they would pull down the bars and give American enterprise a showing on the high seas. If that were done they would soon find little cause to wail over the insignificant per centage of our exports and imports that is carried under the American flag. But while they persist in obstructing the measure they profess to be so much interested in, to put millions in the coffers of the ship building and ship sailing trusts, they will never see much improvement in this respect.

STANDING BY EVANS

When a public official bravely does his duty and subjects himself to denunciation and abuse for trying to prevent the public from being robbed he is entitled to commendation and to the warm support of the people, and of those who profess to represent the people. This Commissioner of Pensions, Evans, has done, done conscientiously and courageously in the face of an opposition before which most men similiarly situated would have quailed.

The pension attorneys who inaugurated and have kept up the war on the Commissioner ever since he began to block their game of plunder have held him up as the enemy of the pensioner, a man who would rob the widow and the orphan of the bread bought with the bounty of the Government, etc. How little foundation there was for that is shown in the report of the Secretary of the Interior who warmly commends the work done by Commissioner Evans, to whom he pays the following tribute:

"The veterans have no more sincere friend than their comrade, who himself served as an enlisted man in the armies of the Union, and he but maintains and defends the honor of their patriotic service when, refusing to ignore both the letter and spirit of the law, he declines to permit the impostor, wether claimant or agent, to share in the bounty provided for the veteran and those dependent upon him."

He who attempts to obstruct the raids of the pension grabbers on the Treasury treads on dangerous ground, for they are a well organized and a mighty clan, bound together by cohesive bands of princely loot. With them the pension roll is not "a roll of honor," but a roll of spoils, and they think or act as if they had a pre-emption right to those spoils, and hence the howling and the attempts at scalping when any official questions that right and contends that the people who pay the pensions are entitled to some protection.

There never was in this or any other country a system originating in benevolence which has been so scandalously abused as the pension system of this country has been, and to the shame of those having the administration of it, be it said, there have been only two Commissioners of Pensions within a generation, since the scandals began, who have made any serious attempt to check them and relentless war was made on both.

FOR LOWER TARIFF ON SUGAR.

A Washington press dispatch states on the authority of some one to whom the President told it, that he would recommend a reduction of the duty on Cuban sugar—when the independent government of the island is set up—and also on sugar grown in the Philippines. The reduction in the case of Cuba is as a concession to promote trade and in the case of the Philippines to encourage sugar growing in the islands.

Both are right, but the former has a string to it, for it may be some time yet before the independent government of the island is set up if it ever is, and there is about as long a string to the latter, for it will be a good while before those islands are sufficiently "pacified" to encourage capitalists to put money into the cultivation and making of sugar. But, while there is little probability of the recommendation amounting to anything, the bare mention of it may raise a racket for the sugar cane growers, sugar beet growers, the sugar beet manufacturers and the Sugar Trust will strap on their kicking apparatus and the kicking will begin forthwith.

If he would confine his recommendation to raw sugar that would suit the Sugar Trust, which would bring all its influence to bear to put it through, but when it includes both the raw and refined sugars it strikes all the sugar people and arrays all against it.

The Sugar Trust has been playing for free raw sugar for some time and has covered the territory of the beet sugar manufacturers with circulars holding out the inducement of refined sugar at from three to four cents a pound if raw sugar be admitted free of duty, the object being to get Western members of Congress to vote for it. Free raw sugar wouldn't lower the cost of sugar a decimal of a cent, for the Trust would simply buy up the bulk of the output and charge as much for the refined stuff. But a reduction of tax on both raw and refined would mean cheaper sugar and the people would be benefited by that. But the people are the last to be considered in all such matters.

Rear Admiral O'Neill says the recent 15-hour stay under water of Holland's sub-marine boat, the Fulton, proves nothing. The mischief it doesn't. It proves that she could stay fifteen hours under water, and that's more than any diver ever did before.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—— No one has yet observed that the shipbuilders of the United States are suffering in the least for want of orders. Still, it is proposed to distribute $9,000,000 a year in subsidies among American owners of home and foreign built ships in order to encourage more building.—Philadelphia Record, Dem.

—— An example of how careless people are in voting for constitutional amendments at general elections is shown in the returns of Pennsylvania. While the total vote cast for the head of the ticket was 828,909, the amendments only received the following: 1—Yes, 214,798; no, 45,601. 2—Yes, 194,053; no, 41,203. 3—Yes, 180,521; no, 48,634.—Macon Telegraph, Dem.

—— The Hon. J. Sterling Morton renews the old charge that Mr. Gorman changed the Wilson bill into a high tariff measure, and the Republican editors continue to assert that the law was a free trade and non-revenue producing affair. This places the Maryland gentleman between two rather conflicting fires.—Washington Post, Ind.

—— The Government receipts from war revenue taxes during the past three years are stated at about $344,000,000, or an average of nearly $115,000,000 a year. Treasury reports show that the surplus due to these taxes are piling up, and yet the Republican leaders think they ought not to be abolished. You know why? Well, a few days ago, one of them said: "If we pass the Subsidy bill, we shall want a slice of that surplus."—Brooklyn Citizen, Dem.

—Dunn Banner: The suit against one Bullock for the slander of Mrs. Cornelia Johnson, that attracted more attention among the people of the county than any suit that has been tried in Harnett county since the war, came to a sudden end on Thursday of last week by the defendant submitting to a verdict and judgment against him for $450 and all the costs of the action. We understand the costs are very heavy, amounting to several hundred dollars.

— Concord Standard: Albemarle had a serious fire this (Wednesday) morning at 3 o'clock. The splendid building called Masonic Temple and occupied below by Merchant Cotton and above by the Masons, K. of P.'s, W. O. W.'s and Royal Arcanum was consumed. Mr. Cotton's goods were valued at $10,000, on which he carried $8,000 insurance. The building, which cost $5,500, was fairly well insured. It was owned by the Masons. The origin of the fire is a mystery.

— Roanoke News: In talking with farmers in various parts of Halifax county we find that while the cotton crop is short that the peanut crop is still shorter. Mr. Paul Garrett, who makes the best of wines, and who is also one of the largest growers of peanuts in the county, says that he planted twice as many acres this year as he did last year and that he did not make as many peanuts on the double acreage as he gathered last year.

— Asheville Citizen: Judge Merrimon was asked by a Citizen reporter if he thought the (South Dakota) case would be dismissed by the United States Supreme Court, as has been reported. He said that he had not yet looked into the case and was unable to make any surmises as to its outcome. It has been stated that the court would dismiss the case as an attempted fraud on the jurisdiction. But if it does not the judgment of the court can only affect the bonds held by that State. It is said that the court can give no judgment whatever against this State in favor of the other holders of the bonds, for by virtue of the eleventh amendment the court has no power to render a judgment against a State in favor of any one except another State. It is attempted to make other holders of bonds parties, as in a creditor bill, that would at once oust the jurisdiction, if it existed before.

— Winston Sentinel: A white woman named Mary Archie, alias Mary Suber, and a negro man named Will Archie, were given a hearing on the charge of living together as man and wife. In default of $50 bonds each, they were committed to jail to await the next term of the Superior Court. The woman talks intelligently and does not deny living with the negro. She claims that they were married in Philadelphia two years ago. He tells a different story, saying they were married in Charlotte on January 22. The woman has papers showing that she has been a trained nurse. One says that she lived with a prominent family in Chester, S. C.; that Archie was employed by the same man as butler; they became infatuated and decided to get married. They have been living on Depot street in Winston since last April. Archie, who is a bright mulatto and appears to be about 22 years old, has been working at Smoak & McCrary's livery stable for some time. The woman claims to have some Indian blood in her veins and appears to be about 35 years old. They have a little babe just five weeks old.

— Raleigh News and Observer: The death of Mr. Fielding McNeill Straughn, which occurred Wednesday morning at his home in this city, removed one of the most historic characters in this city. Mr. Straughn, who had been keeper of the capitol for thirty-one years, was born at Pittsboro 68 years ago. He came to Raleigh in 1862 and was valet to Governor Vance. Governor Caldwell first appointed him keeper of the capitol and he had served successively under nine Governors. —— State Treasurer Lacy has under consideration the question as to whether or not a horse trader is liable for tax in more than one county. A sheriff recently wired that a horse trader with a license granted in another county was doing business in his county, and he wanted to know if the horse dealer would be required to take out license in his county. Treasurer Lacy referred the matter to the Corporation Commission and it was agreed that only one license could be required of a horse dealer. —— Monday night in a row at a negro festival at Earla, seven miles from here, Ed. When a good physician prescribes beer for a patient it is Schlitz beer. A physician knows the value of purity.

Ask him how germs affect beer and he will tell you that few stomachs can digest them. He will say at once that impure beer is unhealthful.

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

NEW YORK, November 29.—Cotton market opened quiet with prices one to three points higher and was steady all the morning on light general buying led by room shorts and scattered demand from Southern commission houses. Fluctuations, however, did not exceed five points. Cable news cut little figure as an influence, revealing an apathetic situation abroad. Some surprise was shown locally in a sudden stiffening up of December contracts, these reached 7 70 on covering and a singular absence of offerings. This change brought out the fact that a single local house owned at least 15,000 bales of the total New York stock of 32,000 bales, certificated cotton, and was practically master of the situation at present so far as December was concerned. In the early afternoon the market eased off under rather larger estimates than expected for to-morrow's New Orleans and Houston receipts and under a larger average estimate of the crop by Liverpool Cotton Exchange members than looked for. The in sight figures showed a total for the week of 427,810 bales, against 396,000 last week 345,000 two years ago and 474,000 three years ago. Some members of the Augusta Exchange estimate the crop at 10,520,000 bales. Near the close the market lost another point or two under realising. The tone was finally quiet and steady, with prices net unchanged to six points lower.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

A Comfortable Garden Chair That Isn't Hard to Make.

At this season of the year the appearance of an article under the above heading is fully justified, for it is now, above all other times, that the amateur carpenter finds time to execute such work. The subject under consideration is the task of putting together a garden chair on quaint lines and yet strongly constructed, in order that it may withstand the hard wear to which such a piece of garden furniture is naturally subjected.

The difficulties of large areas of wood are overcome by using nine inch planks, which are bound together by a piece of wood screwed on the outside and a molding at the base.

IT LOOKS COMFORTABLE.

The seat is a neat looking part of the scheme, being pinned through the sides of the chair in a quaint but very strong manner.

Under the seat a plank is across from molding to molding, and the foot rest also helps in solidifying the entire piece of work. It will be observed that the last board on each side of the chair is cut in an oblique line on one side, terminating at the point where the seat joins this board, and proceeds downward, either perpendicularly or slightly diverging from the other side. This cutting necessitates the back being made in two sets of boards if the portion under the seat at the back is to be filled in. This is not, however, necessary, as the back may consist of boards joined to the seat and be open underneath. By this means a comfortable slope is obtained in the chair and any difficult bending of the wood obviated entirely. The cut illustrating the working portions supplies the details.—Modes.

CONCERNING WRINKLES.

How to Prevent and Remove These Annoying Lines.

The best preventive of wrinkles, according to a physician who has made the matter a study, is a happy disposition which meets life and its trials with a serene countenance. It is worth while, it may be interpolated, if one has not the disposition, to cultivate its counterfeit presentment in the "expression of smiling repose," which, a celebrated French beauty declared, takes away half a woman's years, whatever they may be. Wrinkles are merely expression habits crystallized by practice.

Fall in the way of raising the eyebrows constantly or puckering the forehead between the eyes in troubled perplexity, and soon the lines of latitude and longitude thus produced remain. "Crow's feet" are really pleasant lines caused by smiling and laughing, which is why they usually impart a kindly touch to the countenance.

The lines about the mouth come quickly, for no feature of the face is so mobile and expressive of every passive motion. It is wise, therefore, to go back of the effect to the cause and stifle anger, bitterness and other unlovely feelings, which will speedily write their indelible message. All lines come quickest in a flabby, relaxed skin.

For this a daily douche of water in which a little alcohol or cologne has been put is useful. Bathing the face first in very hot water, then instantly in cold, tends to toughen the skin and keep it smooth. For cheek wrinkles sleep on a small hair pillow. Massage with a good cold cream is also helpful.

BRUTALITY OF JOCKEYS.

"When Jockey Winnie O'Connor began riding at New Orleans last year, he came in from the first race crying bitterly that he could easily have won if a well known jockey had not fouled him," says Allen Sangree in Ainslee's. "The trick that G. used is one common among jockeys when their own horses are tired. G. rode beside O'Connor and crooked his leg over O'Connor's knee. The result was that O'Connor's horse had to drag the other steed along. At the same time O'Connor had to use the utmost skill to save himself from being tossed from the saddle.

"Father Bill Daly, O'Connor's uncle, told the boy not to complain to the stewards just then. But he gave O'Connor instructions to follow when he should meet this same jockey in another contest. In the fifth race the spectators were amazed to see the two boys finishing linked leg and leg, while little O'Connor was slashing his older competitor over the face with the butt of his riding whip. G., blinded with blood, reeled in the saddle. After the race he staggered to the judges' stand almost fainting and attempted to register a complaint. But he was not heard. Pa Bill had been there before him and told the whole story.

"G. was fined $100 and threatened with permanent dismissal from the track."

Crippled Womanhood

No woman would hesitate a moment to have a physical deformity righted. Few women are lame and blind, but a majority of women to-day are crippled physically and mentally by female suffering. Irregular menses are sapping their lives and weakening their vitality. Bearing down pains, leucorrhoea and pains in the head, back, neck and limbs are disabling them so effectually that few women are found sufficient for all the demands of life. It is to these sufferers that is offered to-day. That Wine of Cardui will cure you is supported by the fact that 1,000,000 women have secured relief from this wonderful emmenagogue. There are few cases where Wine of Cardui has failed to give relief. Presented with these facts can you go on suffering when your druggist is waiting to sell you this remedy which will give you strong nerves and perfect health? You need not be a cripple. All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

East Florence, Ala., January 6, 1901.

I thank you for your kind letter and if I can be of any help to sufferers I will do all I can. There is no reason why so many women should suffer so, for Wine of Cardui cures all female weakness. I have thought for a long time I would write and tell you what Wine of Cardui has done for me. I had been a sufferer for ten years with all that could ail a woman. Wine of Cardui has done me more good than all the doctors ever did. I just think I can't live without it. I keep it all the time. I have taken about ten bottles of it and have recommended it to a great many friends and it has done wonders for them. It is a never-failing cure for women. I hope all will try it.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

SATURDAY MORNING, NOV. 30.

M'GOVERN KNOCKED OUT BY "YOUNG CORBETT."

A Swinging Upper Cut On the Jaw Did the Business—Fight Short, Sharp and Decisive.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

HARTFORD, CONN., November 28.—Knocked out in the second round, of which one minute and forty-four seconds had elapsed, was the referee's verdict of the fistic battle between "Young Corbett," of Denver, Colorado, and Terry McGovern, of Brooklyn, who has held the feather weight championship unflinchingly since he won it from George Dixon eighteen months ago.

"Young Corbett," who, outside of ring parlance, is known as Billy Rothwell, of Denver, got the better of the champion in less than two rounds of fighting, and he did it so perfectly that there was no doubt about it.

The shock to the New York enthusiasts who crowded the boxing pavilion when the little champion was knocked out in the second round was a repetition of the disappointment exhibited by the adherents of John L. Sullivan when Corbett defeated him in New Orleans.

Terry was as fit as the proverbial fiddle, but he was not fast enough for his man. Corbett cut off McGovern at every lead and trick. When McGovern was knocked down in the opening round there were cries of dismay from his backers, but his wonderful recuperative powers were equal to the occasion and he was on his feet within seven seconds.

However, the downfall seemed to take the stamina out of McGovern, but he fought the round in clever style and tried hard to stem the tide of defeat which seemed to have set in against him. He tried all his rushing work, which proved so profitable on former occasions, but Corbett met his every curve and countered hard on neck and head.

Down went Terry again in the second round and when he got up quickly he rushed like a wild man. He showed a lack of self-restraint and in a burst of bad temper hit out left and right irrespective of all rules and usages. These tactics were apparently just what Corbett was looking for. Terry was mixing things up with whirlwind velocity and throwing science to the winds. It was anyone's fight at this stage, but Terry fell into a trap as Corbett feinted and suddenly sent his right out when McGovern was side stepping. This blow just grazed McGovern's head, but a moment later Corbett feinted again and, after a rattling exchange, sent his right over to the jaw and Terry went down and out. While the champion was frantically trying to regain his feet the crowd yelled madly.

FIRE AT THE A. & M. COLLEGE

Watauga Hall Completely Destroyed. Fifty Students Lost All Their Effects and Will Have to Return Home.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 29.—At 11:25 o'clock to-night the Watauga Hall, one of the buildings of the Agricultural and Mechanical College, which served for dining room, kitchen and dormitory for fifty students, was discovered to be on fire.

At 11:30 Raleigh's fire department was asked for assistance and responded promptly. The water supply was limited, the college being out of the city, and but for a favorable wind the entire college would have been destroyed. The Watauga alone was destroyed, entailing a loss of $10,000; insurance $6,000.

Fifty students occupying the building lost all of their effects, and as the college has no vacant rooms in the main dormitory, will have to return to their homes.

CASE AGAINST MRS. LOLA BONINE

Testimony for the Prosecution is Expected to be Concluded at This Morning's Session.

WILL THEN REST ITS CASE.

Counsel for Defence Will Make Preliminary Statement and Witnesses in Mrs Bonine's Behalf Will be Heard. Coroner's Testimony.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Upon the eve of the adjournment to-day of the Criminal Court before which Mrs. Lola Ida Bonine is being tried for the killing of James S. Ayres, Jr., District Attorney Gould announced that the government would rest its case after the introduction of one or two more witnesses and that he expected to conclude at the morning session of the court to morrow. Mr. T. W. Keane will then make a preliminary statement in Mrs. Bonine's behalf and witnesses for the defence will be heard. Mrs. Bonine's counsel say that they have not yet decided whether she shall be put upon the stand.

Deputy Coroner Glazebrook to-day concluded his testimony and Detective Horne told of the confession which Mrs. Bonine first made to him of her part in the tragedy. Her confession to the chief of police also was read. Dr. Glazebrook gave it as his opinion that the abrasions on Ayres' legs might have been caused by a woman kicking him with sharp-heeled slippers, and said that the bruises on Mrs. Bonine's arms looked as if they had been made by a man's thumb when he was gripping the arms.

Mrs. Bonine's Confession.

Deputy Coroner Glazebrook to-day told further of the bruises found on the bodies of Mrs. Bonine and Ayres and was followed by Detective Edward Horne, to whom Mrs. Bonine made her first official confession. He said that he had first met Mrs. Bonine on the morning that Ayres body was found. He then askek her if she knew how Ayres had met his death and she said she did not. She told how she had been dressed on the night of the killing and had upon request handed over the skirt she had worn. Her manner was perfectly cool.

On the Monday following the killing, while the coroner's inquest was in progress, she had made her confession to him. She had, she said, then told him at 2 o'clock on the morning of Wednesday, May 15th, Ayres had knocked on her door and that when she went to the door he said he was sicked and asked her to give him some medicine. He then, she had said, tried to put his arm around her and had asked to be allowed to go into her room to talk over their former differences prior to his leaving the hotel, which he was to do the next day. She declined, saying she did not want to awaken her boys and then upon his making the plea that there would be no time the next morning for their conference before his leaving the house. She had told him that she had dressed herself completely, putting on clean linen, a wrapper and slippers and had then followed Ayres to his room, he having returned to his apartment. When she turned the knob of the door Ayres opened it from the inside and she found him standing back of the door holding a revolver in his right hand. She had then started to run away but had tripped and Ayres caught her around the waist. She had illustrated in a later interview with him and District Attorney Gould her attitude and that of Ayres when the shooting occurred, saying that her back was to Ayres; that his right hand in which the revolver was held was thrown over her shoulder and that she had caught that hand with both of her's. She did not know how the shots were fired, but she felt blood gush over her shoulder. When Ayres fell to the floor she fell under him and slipping out had gone to her room, where she washed her hands and her wrapper and went to bed.

The wrapper was exhibited to the witness and identified by him. It is a brown colored garment trimmed with green velvet.

Her Hands Covered With Blood.

Detective Horn said, Mrs. Bonine said to him that she hesitated to mention the tragedy because she feared that in doing so she might do injustice to the dead. After Ayres fell, she found, she said, that her own hand clasped the barrel and that her hands were covered with blood. She had not discovered the pistol in Ayres' hand until he had bolted the door.

Edwin B. Hesse, stenographer at police headquarters, who reported the statement of Mrs. Bonine as made to the chief of police, was next called and identified the transcript of his notes of that statement. When the court convened for the afternoon session Stenographer Hess' two reports of statements made by Mrs. Bonine to the chief of police were offered as evidence and accepted, the defence making no objection. District Attorney Gould read the statements to the jury. The first was made on May 17th, two days after the tragedy, and in this Mrs. Bonine expressed the opinion that a man must have done the killing because she did not suppose a woman capable of the crime. She said then that she knew of no one who was jealous of Ayres. She herself did not feel annoyed, she said, upon seeing Ayres with other women. She said then that she had not known that Ayres was preparing to leave the hotel.

Another Statement.

The second statement was the confession made by Mrs. Bonine on May 20th. It was published at the time.

The reading of these documents completed, William Pierce, a mechanic, who had repaired the lock on the door of Ayres' room, was called. He had been to the room three times for this purpose, and on the two first occasions had found Mrs. Bonine there. She was alone, examining Ayres' books, and had manifested no confusion over his entrance.

Detective Charles T. Peck testified that on the morning of the tragedy he had visited Ayres' room and had found three empty cartridge shells there. He also had been present on that day when Mrs. Bonine was first questioned. She had told the officers that she could not assist them in any way; that Ayres had no enemies and that she could not imagine who would kill him. She told them at the same time, in reply to questions, that she could use a revolver.

FOOTBALL WARRIORS OF THE ARMY AND NAVY.

Will Do Battle On the Gridiron To-day in Philadelphia—Great Crowd Will be Present—Teams in Good Shape.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

PHILADELPHIA, November 29.—The football warriors of the West Point and Annapolis academies arrived here to-day for their annual contest on the University of Pennsylvania's Athletic field to morrow. Nearly every train from the north, south and west that came in during the afternoon and evening brought scores of persons who, with the President of the United States, will watch the cadets do battle on the gridiron. President Roosevelt and members of his cabinet, accompanied by their wives, will not arrive until shortly before the time for the beginning of the game, which is scheduled for 2 o'clock.

The largest crowd that has ever seen the army and navy clash in football is expected to be on Franklin field at the kick-off. A couple of inches of snow covers the scene to-night, and it is likely that the lot of the spectators will be a bit uncomfortable, as the snow is melting, which means damp ground and wet seats. The playing field, however, is in splendid condition, the University authorities having taken the precaution of covering the ground with salt hay before the snow began falling. The announcement that the President would be on hand had the effect of making the demand for tickets enormous. The 24,000 cards of admission were divided between the two academies and the University and distributed gratis by them. The Pennsylvania authorities alone were compelled to refuse 15,000 applicants, so great has been the demand. Notwithstanding all the precautions taken, hundeds of the pasteboards found their way into hands of scalpers, who are selling them to-night at fancy prices.

The outcome of the game seems to be a foregone conclusion, if the words of the managers of the respective teams are a criterion. Cadet Porterfield, of the navy, said: "We expect to lose, but hope to die fighting." Cadet Mitchell, of the army, was more cautious, saying: "The team is in good shape and we intend to win, if possible."

Two special trains will arrive about noon to-morrow from West Point bringing the army corps, numbering about 400 cadets, and several hundred followers. The Annapolis cadets, 300 in all, with a numerous following, will get in about the same time. The cadets will return to their respective academies immediately after the game.

Believed to Have Committed Suicide by Jumping Overboard From the Clyde Line Steamer Chattahoochee.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, November 29.—When the Savannah line steamship Chattahoochee reached her pier to-day Captain H. C. Lewis reported that one of his passengers was missing, and from an examination he had made of the ship he believed that the man had jumped overboard. F. E. Keilbach, of Savannah, Ga., was the missing passenger. The vessel left that port on November 20th. Keilbach occupied a state room with a window opening on deck. He had a large valise, well stocked with clothes, and $300 which he gave to the purser for safe-keeping.

On Thursday morning one of the waiters went to call him to breakfast. This was at 8:35 A. M. As he could get no response he went away and returned at 9:30. This time, as there was no answer to his repeated knocking, he went around on deck and looked in at the window. The window was open and the room was empty. The key was in the lock of the door. Captain Lewis was at once notified and the door of the room was opened. In the room were found the man's effects and a letter addressed to his parents. The ship was searched, but no trace of the missing passenger was found. It is believed that he jumped overboard some time Wednesday night or early Thursday morning.

SAVANNAH, Nov. 29.—Frank E. Kielbach, who is supposed to have jumped overboard from the steamship Chattahoochee en route to New York, was prominent here politically and socially. He was the son of well-to-do parents and had himself accumulated considerable property. He was 37 years of age. For seventeen years he had been connected with the office of ordinary in this city, and was ordinary pro tem. for several months. On account of a recent change in the office he lost his position of chief clerk which seemed to prey on his mind; not that he needed the salary, as he was independent of the pay, but because he imagined his long services unappreciated.

WABASH RAILROAD WRECK.

Loss of Life in the Collision of Trains Wednesday Night is Now Estimated at Eighty-four.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

DETROIT, MICH., Nov. 29.—An interview this evening with Thomas E. Moran, deputy customs collector at this port, practically verifies the estimate that at least eighty lives were lost in Wednesday night's collision and awful holocaust on the Wabash railroad, near Seneca. The two immigrant cars in which the greatest loss of life occurred, and in which so many of the wreck victims were roasted to death, were part of train No. 13, which crossed Detroit river from Canada on the ferryboat Great Western Wednesday, and Deputy Moran inspected the baggage of its passengers. He says there were at the very least calculation one hundred Italians in the two cars. In addition to these there were ten more in the smoking car, which was ahead of the two immigrant cars. Official advices in the office of Superintendent Burns, of this division of the Wabash railroad, say that of the Italians in the wreck, twenty-four were unhurt and ten were injured and taken to the company's hospital at Peru, Ind. Subtracting these thirty-four from the one hundred and ten emigrants Deputy Moran says were on the train, leaves a death loss among the Italians alone of seventy-six. These bodies were burned to ashes in the fire which followed the wreck. In addition eight other bodies were recovered and identified, which makes a total of eighty-four dead.

John G. Watts, a prominent citizen of Tazewell county and former United States marshal for the western district of Virginia, was shot and killed by Robert Jones, one of his farm hands.

LIBERAL FORCES SURRENDER COLON

Transfer to the Government Made Through the Commanders of Foreign Warships.

ALL QUIET AND ORDERLY.

Some Insignificant Fighting Occurred Thursday Where the Liberals Made Their Last Stand--A Conference The Terms of Surrender.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, November 29.—The following cablegram was to-day received at the Navy Department from Capt. Perry of the Iowa:

"Colon, Nov. 29, 1901.—Arrangements for surrender to-day of Colon and Liberal forces have been completed."

A cablegram has been received at the State Department from Consul General Gudger, dated Panama, saying that the Liberals have been defeated and that the government forces are in possession of Colon.

COLON, COLOMBIA, Nov. 29, 11 A. M.—The captains of the warships with a large detachment of their respective forces, are now taking over the government of Colon from the Liberals and will hand over the same later in the day to General Alban, commander of the Colombian government forces Everything is quiet and orderly here.

Some insignificant fighting occurred at Bohio yesterday morning which the Liberals made a last stand. After the conference here yesterday Gen. Alban returned to Panama under a strong American escort. The town was quiet last night.

The report that the Colombian gunboat General Pinzon had landed troops at Kenney's Bluff has not yet been confirmed.

General Francisco Castro was wounded in the engagement at Buena Vista.

Terms of Surrender.

COLON, COLOMBIA, Nov. 29.—The terms of surrender agreed upon at yesterday's conference held on board the United States gunboat Marietta, and at which the commanding officers of the Marietta, of the British cruiser Tribune and of the French cruiser Suchet, Lieutenant Commander McCrea of the Machias, Captain Perry of the Iowa, Generals Alban and Jeffries, representing the government of Colombia, and Senor de La Rosa who represented the Liberal party, were present, are briefly as follows:

Senor de La Rosa agreed to surrender the Liberal soldiers now at Colon, with their arms, to Captain Perry at noon to-day; Captain Perry, in his turn, agreed to hand over these men and their arms later in the day to Gen. Alban, who, in his turn, guaranteed life and liberty to all men recently in arms against the Conservative government of Colombia. The surrender of arms was to be bona fide in every respect.

Formal Surrender.

At half-past eleven this morning a large number of marines and blue jackets from the Iowa, the Marietta and the Machias landed at Colon and proceeded to the barracks. Here the arms belonging to the Liberal soldiers were taken over by the Americans in the presence of Captain Perry, the commanders of the warships above mentioned, the American, British and French consuls at Colon, and a large concourse of people, who sympathized with the Liberals in their surrender.

Later in the day General Alban, accompanied by officials of the Conservative government of Colombia, arrived here from Panama and Senor de La Rosa, representing General Domingo Diaz, whose secretary he is, surrendered himself and the Liberal troops to the Conservative General in the presence of Captain Perry and the naval and consular officers above mentioned.

Warships at Colon.

For years past, the harbor of Colon has not been so crowded as it is to-day. Five men-of-war and several German, Italian and British merchant and passenger steamers, as well as other vessels, are in port. The men-of-war are moored to the wharves. The only flag-bedecked ship in the harbor is the Colombian Conservative gunboat General Pinzon. When General Alban received the surrender of the Liberals, the Pinzon blew a series of noisy, quick and irregular notes from her fog horn, indicative of her joy at the proceedings. She is now lying quite close to the docks. Gen. Alban is on board.

The majority of the American marines and blue-jackets have returned to their vessels. The Sucnet has landed a detachment of marines on the property of the French Canal Company. American marines are still guarding the piers and the railroad station.

Over two hundred men entered the city with Gen. Alban.

Dr. A. W. McGaha, one of the best known Baptist ministers in the South, died yesterday in Huntsville, Ala., after six months illness.

There is no anxiety, no dread of the approaching time of travail. When the birth hour comes it is practically painless, the recovery is rapid, and the mother finds herself abundantly able to nurse her child.

"Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol, neither opium, cocaine, nor any other narcotic.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free of charge, and so obtain without cost the advice of a specialist in the diseases peculiar to women. All correspondence strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. Annie Blacker, 609 Catherine Street, Syracuse, N. Y., writes: "Your medicines have done wonders for me. For years my health was very poor; I had four miscarriages, but since taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery' I have much better health, and now I have a fine healthy baby. I have recommended your medicines to several of my friends and they have been benefited by them."
